

Welcome

Welcome to the third issue of the ROADMAP newsletter!

As we approach the halfway point of ROADMAP Phase 1 we are thrilled about the exciting progress the project has made to date, and we look forward to upcoming conferences where you can meet the ROADMAP team and hear them report on the work done over the past twelve months.

This third issue of the ROADMAP newsletter will give you a progress update as well as insights into ROADMAP's stakeholder involvement from the perspectives of industry, academia and people living with dementia to promote a fuller picture on the scope of real-world evidence.

We hope you enjoy this issue of the ROADMAP newsletter!
